FROM BRETHREN FOUNDATION FUNDS

OCTOBER 2016

MARKETS AND THE ECONOMY

While the S&P 500 Index remained flat (0.0 percent) during September, investor appetite for shares in financial firms and a strong start in July contributed to the S&P 500 Index closing the quarter up 3.9 percent. Real GDP growth in the second quarter was revised up to a 1.4 percent annual rate versus a prior estimate of 1.1 percent; the largest upward revisions were for business investment, inventories, and net exports. The Federal Reserve Bank left short-term interest rates unchanged. Led by housing and medical care, the Consumer Price Index increased 0.1 percent in August from the prior month, up 1.1 percent from a year ago. Consumer spending in the U.S. was unchanged in August from a month earlier; the personal saving rate rose to 5.7 percent in August from 5.6 percent in July. The bond market, as measured by the Barclays Capital Government/Credit Index, decreased 0.2 percent in September, up 0.4 percent for the quarter.

The Bank of Japan is expanding monetary policy to stimulate stubbornly slow growth and too-low inflation by pursuing efforts to establish a floor under long-term interest rates and keep yields on 10-year bonds at zero, while simultaneously raising the target for inflation to exceed 2 percent. The Bank of England held its benchmark interest rate steady. Brexit had no effect on consumer spending as retail sales in the United Kingdom rose 6.2 percent in August from a year earlier. The European Central Bank left its existing stimulus policy of negative interest rates and bond purchases unchanged. Chinese manufacturing activity rose in September from August. During the second quarter, Australia's GDP grew 3.3 percent from a year earlier; this marks 25 years without a recession. International equities, as measured by the MSCI EAFE Index, rose 1.2 percent in September, up 6.4 percent for the third quarter.

HARNESS THE POWER OF THE PORTAL

As of the end of September, 68 percent of Brethren Foundation Fund's organizational clients have authorized individuals to use the BFFI client portal. Those who use the client portal have the earliest access to statements and the new issue of Investment Perspective each month. All online users also have access to past statements, the most recent edition of the Information Statement, and past issues of Investment Perspective (which are also available at www.cobbt.org/investment-perspective).

But there is much more to the client portal than access to current and past reports and documents. Full access users of the client portal may also initiate transactions electronically and generate a variety of custom reports. Users with full "look-only" access receive regular monthly statements and have the ability to generate custom reports; they can prepare statements and performance reports and review account activity at both the summary and detail level for custom date ranges. Reports can be exported for use as spreadsheets or PDF documents. Online users have access to the help section of the client portal and can submit specific requests via the request feature within the help section.

Like many other citizens and corporations, BFFI is sensitive to environmental sustainability and is proud to note that all users of the client portal receive monthly statements, the annual Information Statement, and monthly issues of Investment Perspective only in electronic format via the client portal, thereby enabling BFFI to reduce paper consumption.

Anyone interested in gaining access to the client portal or receiving assistance with its use can contact Steve Lipinski at slipinski@cobbt.org or 847-622-3377.

Please contact Steve Mason, director of Brethren Foundation, with questions or comments.

Those who use the client portal have the earliest access to statements and the new issue of Investment Perspective each month.
